

ATTENTION NYC DOE TEACHERS

Earn an Advanced Certificate in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) or an Extension Certificate in Bilingual Education at Fordham University's Graduate School of Education. The accelerated fully online format allows participating teachers to complete 6 courses(15 credits) in 3 consecutive semesters.

Fordham is offering participating teachers a 50% tuition* reduction plus a $300 per credit scholarship. Space is limited. Apply now to start Fall 2023!

Semester runs August 30, 2023 to December 20, 2023.

Apply Here Today!

To learn more, contact the GSE Admissions Office at:

gse_admiss@fordham.edu; 212-636-6400

Or the Project Director, Alison King at:

aking73@fordham.edu

www.gradadmissions.fordham.edu/apply

"The program was intensive for sure! I got into this program to help my ELLs and left feeling more confident on how I can support my ELLs at all grade levels. I had an amazing experience learning with my cohort on campus and at my student teaching site with my ENL mentor. It was a lot of work, but it was worth it and I am glad I did it at Fordham!"

-NYC DOE Teacher, Brooklyn, Cohort 2019

This unique program is supported through a grant Fordham received from the New York State Education Department in partnership with the New York City Department of Education.

Tuition rates may increase through the duration of the program, depending on Fordham's Board of Trustees' decisions. Tuition reduction does not apply to University-based fees.